Good afternoon, Mr Bohling.

This is our proposal as a class to improve MLK day for our school. We want your approval to send this to the board of education and Dr. McDowell.

Sincerely, Mrs Menards 11th Honors English III class.

Proposal:

Dear Dr. McDowell and Board of Education,

As the students of Mrs. Menard's 11th grade Honors English III Class, it has come to our attention that Martin Luther King Jr. Day does not receive the attention it deserves by the school district of Crete, NE. We are a very diverse school district and we believe it needs to be celebrated. In our English class currently, we are learning about Alexander Hamilton, who was very vocal in his beliefs. We as students of Crete believe we need to embody that. Hamilton was fighting for the revolution because he believed in emancipation. In learning this, we believe it is necessary to bring to light those things that are important to you.

By not recognizing this day, we feel we are not giving Dr. King the justice he deserves. Therefore, ignoring Dr. King's wishes and accomplishments. The most frustrating part is that the day has not been recognized at all.

Our Requests:

Like our surrounding school districts, we feel that having the day off of school is beneficial to the students and the staff. If that request is not attainable, we ask that we can recognize the day in schools. In the Elementary school, we would tie blankets for a service project and learn about Martin Luther King Jr. in the classroom. In the high school, we could have a special assembly and speaker to talk about the importance of the day. In classes, we could perform Service Projects for our community, like creating care kits for those in need, and a district/community wide parade. There could be a district wide assembly with a speaker and each school contributing in some way(ex. High school band perform and choir sing). One of the many clubs like Multicultural Union, World Language Club or National Honor Society could organize the assembly and the day.

We hope you all feel as passionately about this topic as we do and we hope you strongly consider our requests mentioned above. We are really trying to make a change for the better in our district and we believe that this can help us take a step in the right direction.

Sincerely,

The Students of Mrs. Menard's 11th Grade Honors English III Class

Wow, this is very well written and you do an excellent job of laying out the points you want the board and Dr. McDowell to be aware of. I would support you sending this on to them. You can CC me onto the message. Let me know how I can help aid you in this process.
